HOW TO PROPERLY DISPOSE OF PAINT

LATEX

Paints, Stains, & Urethanes

Labeled "Clean-up with water"

Latex paint is not hazardous; it is just a messy product. Whenever possible, latex paint should be DRIED OUT and disposed of with household trash.

Dispose with regular household trash:

- ▶ Cans with dry or almost dry paint.
- ▶ Small quantities - leave lid off and dry out.
- ▶ Large quantities – DRY OUT FIRST - mix with kitty litter or "latex waste paint hardener" available at paint and hardware stores.

Bring to Paint Collection Days:

- ▶ Cans at least 3/4 full of liquid latex paint in good condition in original cans.

Recycle with Scrap Metal:

- ▶ Empty metal cans only.

OIL & ALKYD-BASED

Paints, Stains, Polyurethanes & Varnishes

Labeled "Caution Flammable or Combustible"

Oil and alkyd based paints and stains are problematic only when liquid and in significant quantities.

Dispose with regular household trash:

- ▶ Cans with dried out or almost dried out paint, stain, polyurethane or varnish.
- ▶ Cans with only a small amount of liquid.

Bring to Paint Collection Days:

- ▶ Oil and alky paint, stain, polyurethane and varnish in original cans that are more than 1/4 full of liquid.

Recycle with Scrap Metal:

- ▶ Empty metal cans only.

PAINT THINNERS & REMOVERS

Labeled "Caution Flammable"

Paint thinners and removers are highly flammable and should never be disposed of with household trash.

Bring to Paint Collection Days:

- ▶ Unused paint thinner, paint remover, mineral spirits, turpentine, and linseed oil in any quantity IN ORIGINAL CONTAINER.

Take to Hazardous Waste Day:

- ▶ Any used thinner or stripper.
- ▶ Any thinner or stripper not in its original container.

Recycle with Scrap Metal:

- ▶ Empty metal cans only.
